The innovative summer course is developed through Copenhagen Health Innovation – a partnership dedicated to enhancing health innovation through education and projects.

PRACTICAL INTRODUCTION TO SURGERY

The new international summer course in surgery is a collaboration between University of Copenhagen and Copenhagen Academy for Medical Education and Simulation (CAMES). CAMES is a world leading training center in surgical simulation and will provide state of the art simulation experiences including virtual reality simulators, phantoms, and operations on live pigs.

The summer course consists of two modules:

- Introduction to surgery with hands on simulation training (2,5 ECTS)
- Introduction to surgery with simulated team-training and clinical experiences (2,5 ECTS)

The course focuses on hands-on training, where participants are introduced to and practice surgery procedures on simulators and pigs, and shadow experienced surgeons in the hospital.

Join the summer course and get a comprehensive and systematic overview of the most common procedures and techniques in the field of general surgery and within surgical specialties. Participants will also visit cutting edge research facilities, innovative businesses and world class knowledge institutions.

The summer course is scheduled for 6-24 August 2018 in Copenhagen, Denmark.

WHO CAN APPLY?

International and Danish medical students who have obtained a bachelor's degree and have completed a minimum of three terms of medical studies at master's level.

TUITION FEE

Tuition fee for both courses is:

EU/EEA citizens: 5,000 DKK / Non-EU/EEA citizens: 9,000 DKK
